About

I'm a Front-End Developer with a background in small business operation and management. Since pivoting to the world of development I have uncovered a true passion for JavaScript and programming. My portfolio shows a body of work that I am proud to have accomplished in the time I've been programming, and I am thrilled to see where my continued learning takes me next. I want to take the skills and knowledge that I've gained over the last fifteen years in business and put them to work in exciting new ways!

Experience

Mentor

HackerYou / May 2019 - Present

- Assisted approx. 45+ students in HTML & CSS, and JavaScript Workshops
- Provided support, answered questions and debugged code
